Soil Testing

Unsure about what to use when fertilizing? When should it be done? How much to apply? Consider the benefits of a soil test. Not only do you have a clear picture of your soil profile, which enables you to understand which plants will thrive or not, but you remove the guesswork out of fertilizing. By knowing exactly what your plants need, the best time to use it, and the correct rate of application, you reduce unnecessary additives to the soil—which helps not only the environment, but also your wallet.
